be learned from any of the members of the ommittee, nor could Mr. Askwith be induced to talk on the subject.

Mr. George L. Rives, the secretary of the committee, would not see a newspaper representative, but from what could be learned from his private secretary it was inferred that the report was not in shape for publiation as yet, nor was it expected to be before Saturday or Sunday.

Mr. William C. Whitney said: "The reort is under consideration, and will be published when completed." He declined to talk further about the matter.

It was learned at the clubhouse that none the members of the committee had been ere during the afternoon.

Mr. Askwith was at his room in the Ho-Brunswick, where he held a consultan with an elderly man, enveloped in an mense overcoat, for more than an hour.

Askwith stated that his lips were still aled on the subject of the charges. He
